▼ Description

The Passion of Noiseblocker are extremely quiet fans. The Multiframe models in particular, with their innovative housing shape and suspension, are the company's flagship models. With the BlackSilent series, Noiseblocker expands its range with particularly small fans. These are again enjoying growing popularity due to their use in compact mini and HTPCs as well as hard disk enclosures. However, the limited flow volume of these small fans below 80 mm is often increased by comparatively high speeds, which results in considerable noise pollution. Noiseblocker addresses this problem by designing a range of small and extremely quiet models. So even the HTPC in the living room doesn't disturb the movie enjoyment any more.
